

I love Cologne! Cologne is a beautiful, temperament, student city with specific atmosphere to live and study and with nice people. University of Cologne is one of the best in Germany.

It was a really great experience to stay and study one semester here. You can combine courses you want to visit during semester in English or German language at the Geography institute. Simultaneously you have an opportunity to visit the German language course for foreign students if you would like to learn or improve your German knowledges. On the courses I was supposed to write some reports to the topic I had the possibility to choose and to give a presentation. At the end of semester I did some exams, all of them succesfully!

Nearby the institute the uni-mensa is situated, where you can enjoy every day one of many kinds of meals for 'student' prices. If you come to Cologne enjoy the pre-semesteral week and night city atmosphere! If you are an upfront person, your phone card could be full after the first week with new friends' contacts ☺

Cologne is a very well situated city to travel. In one semester I visited nice cities in Belgium, Netherlands, Luxemburg, France and Germany. You can take a rail, bus, airplane, ship and travel for a few money – just search the best deal. Oppurtunities to travel are really on the high level.

I recommend this university and to study at the Institute of Geography to all students and I wish you to have a nice stay in Cologne!
