

Prof. Dannenbergs working group at the RSA Annual Conference 2025 in Porto

From May 6 to 9, 2025, AG Dannenberg took part in the RSA Annual Conference on “Navigating Regional Transformation” at the University of Porto. Prof. Dr. Peter Dannenberg, PD Dr. Alexander Follmann, Johanna Fellbrich and Victoria Luxen presented their current research work there.

Prof. Dr. Peter Dannenberg chaired the session "Economic Geographies of War", in which Johanna Fellbrich also gave her presentation "Unveiling Governance Risks: A Focus on Chinese Port Investments in Europe under the Belt and Road Initiative". PD Dr. Alexander Follmann presented "Participatory Transformation of Urban Food Systems in Times of Multiple Crises: Insights from Cologne, Germany", presented findings on the participatory transformation of urban food systems in Cologne. Victoria Luxen presented her research on "Dissatisfied and Left-Behind: The Relationship Between Agricultural Intensification and Smallholder Life Satisfaction in Tanzania".

The working group used the conference to discuss research findings with an international audience of experts, deepen existing contacts and establish new scientific networks.

Written by Victoria Luxen